Health Observances

January is Cervical Health Awareness Month

Did you know that more than 13,000 women in the U.S. are diagnosed with cervical cancer each year? The good news is that this type of cancer is highly preventable and treatable when caught early.

Regular pap smears and HPV screenings help detect changes before they become serious. Since HPV causes more than 99% of cervical cancers, getting vaccinated makes a big difference in reducing risk.

Your medical benefits include coverage for cervical health screening and preventive care so be sure to schedule your routine exam!

Learn more by about how to protect yourself against cervical cancer by visiting the NCCC website here.

Glaucoma Awareness Month

January is also a great time to focus on your eye health. Glaucoma is a leading cause of permanent vision loss, affecting more than 3 million Americans, according to the Glaucoma Research Foundation. It damages the optic nerve and can develop without noticeable symptoms, so regular eye exams are the key to catching it early.

Although there is no cure yet, there are treatments that help manage the condition and protect your vision. As an enrolled member of an HBT medical plan, you have access to comprehensive vision benefits through VBA. No membership card is needed; simply notify your provider that you have VBA coverage at the time of our appointment.

Visit vbaplans.com to create an account, find an in-network provider, and learn more about your benefits.
